Week 4

Principal's Report Jennifer Abel

As I write this newsletter, for the first time in a long time, I am reflecting on my own learning lessons during this COVID-19 time.

During this time of ISO I have been able to attend the jobs around the house that have been on the list forever and been able to declutter, realising that we all tend to overspend on things that we don't need, instead being swept up in a consumable world.

Most of all, this current time has given us the opportunity to slow down, pause, reflect and catch our breath, and prioritise on what is really important.

For me, the letters I have received from the students, the fantastic conversations I have had with parents, along with the wonderfully supportive emails and texts. Seeing all the kids' faces on our weekly Bluearth and Health and Wellbeing sessions, 'fills my cup full'. I am so appreciative to be the Principal of this amazing school community. Like the students missing their friends, I miss opening the doors every morning welcoming eager students and families into our buildings, and I know the staff feel the same. Thankfully, it won't be too much longer and our corridors and classrooms will again be a hive of activity.

On reflection, I feel so privileged to be a part of a school community where people are at the forefront, who challenge, support and truly care for each other. Our success is overcoming the adversity we are faced with, and strongly binding together, coming out the other side with an even stronger school community culture.

As we hear daily, "we are all in this together", some days are going to bring greater success than others, especially when juggling, home schooling, work, and family, and this is normal. However, this is a precious time with our families, we may not see again any time soon, so it is important to focus on what can realistically be achieved and enjoy the ride, knowing we will all come out of this a little wiser!

Grant from Bendigo Bank

Last week we received a generous donation of $1500 from Bendigo Bank to assist the school and families with flexible remote learning. This money has gone towards Essential Assessment My Literacy and My Spelling subscriptions, a virtual learning music program for Miss Karren and the purchase of dongle and SIM cards to assist families with limited internet connectivity. Dongles seem to be in short supply at the moment, so if anyone knows where we can get a couple more to use with our student ipads please let me know. We have looked everywhere!

ALL YEAR 6 PARENTS re: YEAR 7 SECONDARY SCHOOL PLACEMENTS FOR 2021

All our Year 6 Parents have recently been emailed the "Application for Year 7 Placement 2021" form. These enrolment forms need to be filled out by all the Year 6 parents even if your child is attending a Non-Government school in 2021. If you are having difficulty printing off or scanning these enrolment forms, the school office is opened on Wednesdays only. If you need some help please come in and pick up a hard copy of the enrolment forms from the school office on a Wednesday. We need these enrolment forms to be filled out and returned ASAP. If you are able to, you can email them straight back to my email address: Cheryl.Bourke@education.vic.gov.au

Many thanks Cheryl

MATHS

Good morning Mrs Price, We are ready for another great week! Etta and Sunny liked Charlie's First Night. We talked about Jimmy's first night at our house 6yrs ago when he howled and cried so we let him inside. He has stayed there ever since! From Etta, Sunny and Katrina

Yaluk (2/3) Gina Coad

Apart from a few technical issues, the Yaluk class have done some fantastic work in all areas. The adjustment to learning at home is not always easy, but overall the work submitted has been excellent. Here are some lovely rainbows from the Year 2/3 Inquiry Unit, showing the depth of imagination these students have for creation!

And some shadow puppets have also been made now. Harry, and I believe one of his brothers, made a video of their shadow puppets dancing to Billie Eilish's *Bad Guy. They are brilliant. Here are a few of the moves!

If your rainbow isn't here, it's because it was a photo direct into Seesaw, rather than a photo posted to Seesaw. Both ways of adding work to Seesaw are correct and taking the photo directly into Seesaw is quicker. It is unfortunate that it cannot then be copied and pasted into another document.

I missed last week's newsletter, so I have included what I intended to send, as well as some more on what Yaluk is doing. Apart from the usual Spelling, Reading and Maths, the students have been writing a narrative. By the next newsletter we will have some ready for publishing. I have been so impressed with the work that I have seen. We have also been making musical instruments that make sound in different ways. Once again, the creativity and imagination of the students has been a wonder to behold. They will be used as sound effects for a shadow puppet show that will be performed when we are back at school.

We are continuing on and working hard to keep everyone as happy and enthusiastic as possible. I will try to spread out the pictures for the newsletter so everyone has something in there.....but you have to submit your photos and videos for me to do this.

Keep up the excellent work you are doing! Remember the story about the man and his donkey! It's what keeps me sane.

WARRI and YERN

All of our amazing kids are rising to the various challenges of home learning. They are planning their days, becoming more disciplined, becoming more creative in the ways they learn and the ways they present their learning, they are challenging themselves and socialising with their friends. They are all producing some absolutely amazing work, and we are so impressed by how much they have all grown.

The 5/6 students wanted to make ANAC Day this year a little bit brighter for some of our older community members by letting them know that even if they were spending the day alone, that they were not alone in spirit. They wrote some truly heartfelt letters to those who served for us, which were delivered by the RSL to those who needed them the most.

Dear returned service men and women,

I am very sorry that ANZAC day will not be going forward this year as I know how much it means to you. I am also very sorry that you are not able to see your families due to covid-19. Even though we won't all be together please know that our spirits will be with you because my classmates and I will still be singing our songs and holding our poppies.

Yours truly,

Jani

G'day to all our amazing service men and women, although this ANZAC day is a bit different this year, its still ANZAC day and even though we can't be there to celebrate with you at the RSL you are still in our hearts.

From the amazing work you do protecting our country, to helping out after natural disasters, the work you do and have done is incredible.

Covid 19 may be here now but it won't be here forever, the ANZAC spirit will not be damaged by this virus and whilst we may be stuck at home now away from our families this won't last for ever so stay strong and keep up that fighting ANZAC spirit. Remember you are in our hearts and minds this ANZAC day.

Grace

Dear RSL member,

I would like to thank you for all you have done for Australia and its people. I am really grateful for the peace you and the rest of the soldiers have brought. I know you are probably having a hard time due to all the tough restrictions. I really hope you are doing okay in isolation, and that you know we are thinking of you.

The 4/5 students were excited to have our local MP Libby Coker join us for one of our online Webex sessions. Students discussed the challenges of home learning and some of the things that they have been enjoying with Libby. Libby answered lots of our questions and explained how our government works. She also shared some valuable tips for persuasive writing with us. These included using personal examples, emotive language and discounting the opposition's arguments. We're looking forward to putting these tips into practice over the next few weeks as we continue to work on our persuasive writing. Libby's team made a short video of our session which can be viewed at: <https://www.facebook.com/libbycokemp/videos/229754995123343/>

Here's some of the students' feedback from the session:

"It was really nice that Libby came into our class out of all the other classes on the coast. I really enjoyed Libby coming to our class it was a great experience to speak to a politician. I would like to say 'thanks again Libby!' Quincy

"It was fun because she was from Parliament House, Plus we got some tips to write persuasive texts" Luca

"It was fun because we got to get some tips for persuasive writing!" Amelia

"Libby gave us great tips on writing persuasive texts." Malia

"It was a great experience." Molly

"It was exciting because we got to talk to a federal member" Eric
